

FY 2010-2011

Sixty years ago, a small, dedicated group of people came together, drawn to a gleam of hope — the hope of life without limits for people with disabilities.

Hope

The background of the entire image is a night sky filled with a dense field of stars, creating a starry pattern. In the lower-left corner, a lighthouse sits on a dark, rocky outcrop. A bright beam of light from the lighthouse extends horizontally across the middle of the frame towards the right. Overlaid on the right side of the image are several thick, flowing, wavy lines in shades of white, light blue, and green, which appear to be part of a graphic design. The overall mood is one of hope and guidance.

Today that small group has grown into a constellation of volunteers and donors, parents and caregivers, staff and teachers.

And for people with disabilities, their gleam of hope has flared into a beacon that lights the way to greater freedom, more independence, infinite potential — and a brighter tomorrow.

DONATE NOW

Dear friends,

UCP of Greater Chicago celebrates our 60th year with a new point of pride: a four-star rating from Charity Navigator. Across the country, donors trust Charity Navigator to steer them toward the best places to make their gifts.

Recently, this lodestar of the philanthropic community expanded its rating system to look not just at finances but also at accountability and transparency. Under the new system, UCP won top marks in every category.

We're beaming about our four stars. But we know the real stars are our supporters. When you give to UCP, 95 percent of every dollar goes directly into programs and services. With your help, UCP is making the world a brighter place for people with disabilities.

Best regards,

Infinitec brings assistive technology to nearly a million students with disabilities. The program, which began in Illinois, now reaches schools in Kansas, California, Georgia and Minnesota. With Infinitec's discount purchasing program, participating schools saved more than $162,000 on assistive technology software last year.

Infinitec is opening a world of possibilities for students like Tyler, an 11-year-old who recently lost much of his vision to neurofibromatosis. Today Tyler uses onscreen magnifiers, a talking calculator, e-books, a modified laptop computer and a Braille to keep up with his class. How's it working? He's making straight A's, talking about college and looking forward to a bright future.

And Infinitec's services continue to grow. UCP board member Dave Giordano and his company, Technology Services Group, have worked pro bono to help develop InfiText. This innovative program converts written text to electronic documents for students who have trouble reading printed material. Over the last school year, participating school districts downloaded nearly 6,000 general education curriculum files for students who have trouble reading printed material.

Ramp Up makes homes accessible for everyone who lives there. All the work is done free of charge, paid for by donations. For families who couldn't otherwise afford these improvements, Ramp Up is a lifeline, putting greater freedom and independence within reach.

Since 2002, Ramp Up has modified 215 Chicago-area homes — 52 in the last year alone — and the demand just keeps growing. Recently, UCP secured a $100,000 grant from the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs.

That's good news for vets like John, a double amputee in his 70s. Before Ramp Up stepped in, he was trapped in his own house. Now he's able to get out into the community again.

John's story is a real bright spot. But next year, the outlook is clouded. Cutbacks in Illinois state funding will cost Ramp Up $250,000. We're counting on an extra push from our supporters to keep Ramp Up rolling — because no one should ever be a few steps away from independence.

People with significant disabilities have needs that last a lifetime. But most support programs focus on children. By 21, the people who most need help have aged out of the system. UCP is the rare exception. Our adult service programs open opportunities for a lifetime of learning new skills, engaging with others, even landing a job.

Take Miriam, a young woman with visual impairment. When she came to UCP, she had little job experience. Since then, she's interned at a children's museum and started work as a hostess at a major restaurant chain. She's proud of her paycheck and all she's accomplished. But with state cutbacks to support services, she could lose everything she's gained.

Contributions to UCP keep the lights on for employment services that help Miriam and others with disabilities hold a job and hold their heads high.

Adult Services

Working creatively in partnership with other organizations, UCP is achieving stellar results with our programs and services.

Infinitec

Trained more than 8,500 educators in Illinois, Kansas, Georgia, Minnesota and California in using assistive technology to help children learn

ATEN (Assistive Technology Exchange Network)

Delivered more than 4,300 refurbished computer systems to Illinois students with disabilities

Ramp Up

Built ramps for 52 Chicago-area families, including 29 ramps for low-income seniors

Home-based Services

100% success rate in obtaining necessary equipment and home modifications to keep consumers in their homes

Adult Day Program

Expanded our Day Training Program by 59 percent through a partnership with Sequin Services which provides vocational training, hands-on work experience and job search support

Adult Recreation

Secured grant funds for track-and-field training plus opportunities to compete nationally

Employment Services

Landed jobs for nearly half the participants in this competitive placement program

Information and Referral

Satisfied 225 inquiries from families and local, regional, and national agencies

Holiday Drive

Sent 1,411 people with disabilities three gifts each, valued at $37,920 total

Respite

Presented 55 caregivers with gift certificates for free hotel stays and meals

Durable Medical Equipment

Provided 289 pieces of equipment free of charge to people with disabilities

Early Intervention and Training

Handled an average of 100,000 requests monthly from educators seeking training and guidance on making learning more accessible for children with disabilities

UCP's 2011 Great Chefs Tasting Party reached a record $175,000 in contributions. Star chef Stephanie Izard of Girl & the Goat headlined the event, and more than 45 big names on Chicago's restaurant scene presented their signature dishes to a crowd of eager dining enthusiasts.

VIP guests enjoyed a special reception and cooking demo with Izard, 2008 winner of TV's Top Chef competition, and 2007 finalist Dale Levitski of Sprout Restaurant. A live auction, new this year, stirred heated bidding for premium items. Already, plans are brewing for 2012's party. Don't miss it!
